Announcements

Career Week

National Careers Week 2025 will be held from May 12 to 18. This week-long event is designed to celebrate career development, provide resources for exploring career paths and connect individuals with industry experts. It's a great time to explore different career options, connect with professionals and learn about careers and jobs. Check out what's on in your school and community - being informed is being confident.

Joke of the fortnight

I became an archaeologist. Before long, my career was in ruins.

Apprenticeships & Traineeships

$10,000 incentive payments for housing construction apprentices from July 1

From 1 July 2025, eligible apprentices working in housing construction will receive $10,000 in incentive payments over the life of their apprenticeship. Apprentices will receive $2,000 at 6, 12, 24, 36 months, and at the completion of their apprenticeship. Click here for more information.

Apprenticeship Central

Did you know there are over 500 apprenticeship and traineeship qualifications in over 50 different industries? Whether you want to work in an office, construction site, design studio, hospital or a farm, you can follow your dreams through a traineeship or apprenticeship. Apprenticeship Central has information that can help you find your career pathway! An apprenticeship or traineeship allows you to learn while you earn. Click here for more information including answers to the following questions:

- What happens in an apprenticeship or traineeship?
- How long does an apprenticeship or traineeship take?
- Is an apprenticeship or traineeship right for me?
- Looking for an apprenticeship or traineeship?

Apprenticeship Support Australia

Apprenticeships and Traineeships are a great way to set yourself up for the career you want. They allow you to combine work and study and gain a nationally recognised qualification whilst earning. Australian Apprenticeship Support Loans (AASL)

The Australian Apprenticeship Support Loans (AASL) is available to all apprentices and trainees in occupations on the Priority List. It provides income contingent loans of up to $25,374 in 2024-25 to help apprentices and trainees meet day to day costs while undertaking their studies.

- The measure also enables backdating of payments to provide immediate support to recipients. Australian Apprentices do not have to repay the loan until they are earning an income above the minimum repayment threshold ($54,435 for 2024-25).
- Australian Apprentices who complete their apprenticeship will receive a 20% discount on the loan amount. In order to maintain the real value of the loan, the loan amount will be indexed according to the Consumer Price Index annually.
- On 3 November 2024, the Australian Government announced changes to income contingent student loans, including Australian Apprenticeship Support Loans. Anyone with a student loan, including a AASL debt will have their debt reduced by a further 20% before 1 June 2025, when indexation is applied. The ATO will apply these changes. For more information visit Higher Education Loan Program (HELP) - Department of Education, Australian Government.

Want to become an ADF Pilot?

Certain roles in the Army and Air Force are grouped within pathways. You start out as an officer, learning world-class leadership and management skills. As you progress through training and assessment, a combination of your job preference, performance and position availability determines which pathway and the specific role you're best suited to. The Officer Aviation career specialisation refers to a group of air and ground-based aviation roles that sit within 2 pathways: Mission and Pilot. The application process for all roles is the same - you apply as Mission or Pilot and you find out which career pathway you've been chosen for as your application progresses, based on a combination of your job preference, performance and position availability. Click here to find out more.

Work experience program

The Defence Work Experience Program provides young Australians interested in Defence as a future career, the opportunity to find out more about the Australian Defence Force (ADF) and the Australian Public Service (APS). Careers with STEM online magazines

The Careers with STEM website has information on all things STEM ... and it's not all about being great at Maths either! Check out the 'Find My STEM X' section here. You'll see how you can combine Science, Technology, Engineering or Maths (STEM) with your other passion or hobby (X), and discover your dream career! Find out how you can combine STEM with areas of interest such as:

- Animals
- Business
- Creativity
- Crime and Justice
- Cyber Security
- Design and construction
- Disaster management

... and much more. Click here to see where STEM + Passion/hobby can take you.

Getting career ideas

Not sure what jobs might suit you? A career quiz could help you identify pathways options. Quizzes usually ask you questions about your interests, values and preferences. Some quizzes then give you a list of jobs that might interest you, that you can then investigate. There are many tests to choose from including:

- Online career quizzes - use your answers to match you to jobs that might suit you.
 - These quizzes are short and aim to open your mind to new career possibilities.
 - Some career quizzes give you a summary of your answers at the end. You can use the results to describe yourself (your strengths, interests and values) to employers in your applications and at interviews.
- Psychometric tests - measure how well you will suit a particular role. They test whether your personality and strengths match the traits needed in the job. Employers sometimes ask job seekers to complete a psychometric test as part of their recruitment process.
- Aptitude quizzes - can help you figure out if you have the literacy and numeracy skills required for a role.

Healthcare is everywhere!

Healthcare is Everywhere is an interactive online 'activity' that will help broaden your understanding of healthcare. It highlights the variety of career opportunities and you can zoom in, scroll around exploring a hypothetical city and rural community, discover the range of health services, career opportunities and what they do at work. It's easy, click on the red markers to find out what health care jobs are located in that workplace. Give it a go here!

How knowing your values can positively impact your career

Values influence the career choices we make, but what exactly are values and how can you identify the values that are important to you - those that will positively impact your career? Sabina Read identifies some common values to help you start thinking about what's important to you. Ask yourself which of the listed values are important to you and whether there are any you want to add.

- Adventure: To actively seek, create, or explore novel or stimulating experiences
- Assertiveness: To respectfully stand up for my rights and request what I want
- Authenticity: To be genuine, real - to be true to myself
- Caring: To be considerate towards myself, others, the environment
- Challenge: To keep encouraging myself to grow, learn, improve
- Cooperation: To be cooperative and collaborative with others
- Creativity: To be innovative
- Curiosity: To be open-minded and interested; to explore and discover
- Fairness: To be honest with myself and others
- Humour: To see and appreciate the funny side of life
- Independence: To be self-supportive, and choose my own way of doing things
- Open-mindedness: To see things through/from other's points of view, and weigh evidence fairly
- Powerful: To strongly influence or wield authority over others, e.g. taking charge, leading, organising
- Respectful: To be thoughtful towards myself or others; to be polite and show positive regard
- Self-development: To keep growing, advancing or improving in knowledge, skills, character, or life experience
- Supportiveness: To be helpful, encouraging and available to myself or others
- Trustful: To be loyal, faithful, sincere and reliable

Thinking of going to uni? Read this first!

Job Jumpstart has an interesting article highlighting the reasons why you need to fully investigate your pathway options after school to make sure that the one you choose is a good fit for you and your career ideas. If you are considering a university pathway you might want to read their article Thinking of going to uni? Read this first! The article isn't advocating not to go to university, rather that it is wise to go to university for all the right reasons. The article prompts/helps you to answer the following questions:

1. Why am I going to university?
2. Is this course right for me?
3. Which university is right for me?
4. Will I get a job when I finish?

Want to be a submariner?

- Seek <https://www.linkedin.com/home> - a list of jobs currently being advertised

A note: The above are just three links to jobs in the submarine building industry to get you started on your research. Being a submariner may not be your thing but there are many 'on land' jobs that may be of interest. Check them out and reach a well-researched deciding.

Which high school science elective should you choose?

If science is your thing it'd be cool to study every unit on the syllabus but often timetable clashes mean choosing just one or two specialisations. Careers with STEM has some ideas to help you narrow it down including:

- Quizzes you might like to take!
- Choosing electives
- About Careers with STEM

NOTE: These quizzes and articles are just one way for you to work through your subject selection process. Always check in with your Guidance Officer/School Counsellor, VET Co-ordinator, Subject Heads and Teacher. They can also give you some very valuable insights.

Employment, Job and Labour Market Info

How employers recruit

Research shows that employers value different qualities at different stages of the recruitment process. An employers' focus often shifts from an applicant's experience and qualifications at the application stage to whether the applicant has the right approach and attitude to work and is a good cultural fit to their business at interview. However, qualifications and experience continue to be important at the interview stage if you are applying for a position requiring specific skills. Understanding these differences can help job seekers write a good application or prepare for their job interview. During the application stage employers look for:

- Relevant work experience and skills
- Qualifications and licenses
- Availability
- Communication and interpersonal skills
- Willingness to learn

During the interview stage they look more for:

- Approach and attitude to work
- Cultural fit
- Skills, knowledge and experience
- Communication and interpersonal skills
- Personal values

Click here to find out more.

Knowing about labour market information is important

To make good career decisions for the future, you need to have some idea of the employment prospects for the jobs you are interested in. The following resources can be helpful in this process:

- Jobs and Skills Australia - Industries and Occupations - Explore the latest trends and insights into Australia's job market by occupation and industry.
- Jobs and Skills Australia website – The Skills Priority List webpage on this site identifies the areas of skill shortage nationally and by state/territory. It also provides skill shortage information by occupation.
- Jobs and Skills Australia - provides advice on Australia's labour market, including advice on workforce needs and priorities and current, emerging and future skills and training needs and priorities (including apprenticeships)

- Graduate Careers Australia – This website provides a range of graduate-related publications and research on topics such as salary trends and graduate employment opportunities.

Occupation information - Boiler and engine operators

Terminology - What are sectors, industries and career fields?

The world of work influences how you think about, choose, develop and change your career. You need to understand the world of work before you choose a career path. Click here and find out about sectors, industries and career fields. It will help you understand them and make your career research that little bit easier.

Understanding the Australian Skills Classification

Hays is a recruitment company and they have published the Understanding the Australian Skills Cloudification article. Click here to check it out as they explain:

- What is the Australian Skills Classification?
- Skills categories
- Core competency values
- Specialist tasks
- Skills clusters and skills cluster families
- Technology tools
- Why do we classify skills?

What are skills' clusters?

According to the Australian Government Jobs and Skills Australian website, skills clusters show clusters of jobs requiring similar specialist tasks. They are another way of looking at the labour market, showing how skills are related and connected to one another and are not just connected to a specific job. It's a new way to explore skills transferability. Skills clusters do not take into account qualifications, registration or licensing required to undertake certain tasks. Click here to read about the 7 skill clusters as identified by Foundation for Young Australians.

Why people skills matter

People skills which were once called soft skills, are personal attributes that enable someone to interact effectively and harmoniously with other people. Unlike hard skills, which are about a person's skill set and ability to perform specific tasks, people skills are interpersonal and broadly applicable in all aspects of life. These include:

- Communication: The ability to express oneself clearly and listen well.
- Teamwork: Working effectively with others.
- Problem-solving: Finding solutions to challenges.
- Time management: Efficiently managing one's time.
- Adaptability: Being able to adjust to new conditions.

Scholarship options in Australia

Scholarships come in many shapes and sizes, some of which cover tuition fees (in part or full), some of which cover living and accommodation expenses and some of which cover the whole lot or provide a stipend that students may use as they see fit. Similarly, some may cover students for the duration of their course, while others only cover students for a year or require them to reapply. The most important thing to remember is that competition is often strong. It's best not to rest all your hopes on obtaining a scholarship, and it's worth considering back-up options. This includes applying for Government allowances and investigating scholarships that will be available in the next application period. Many scholarships are available to students in their second and subsequent years of study, so keep an eye out for such alternatives. Click here to read the Good Universities Guide's Scholarship options in Australia article which has information on:

- Federal government scholarships
- Student Start-up Loans
- Relocation Scholarships
- Education provider scholarships
- Academic scholarships

How are Assistance schemes and Adjustment Factors linked?

Adjustment Factors can increase your chances of entry into university courses. If you are eligible for Adjustment Factors through one of the Assistance schemes, your position on the merit scale for entry into a course will be 'adjusted' to give you a new, more competitive score.

Universities award Adjustment Factors for a variety of reasons and programs, so you will have to enquire to every university you are interested in attending, to fully understand their eligibility requirements. The process for applying for 'Adjustment Factors' may vary, so it's important that you start your research now. Visit the QTAC website for information on the following Assistance schemes:

- Elite Athlete Adjustment Scheme
- Financial assistance
- Educational Access Scheme (EAS)
- Rural Access scheme

Other Special admission schemes include:

- Year 12 subject scheme
- Access and equity schemes
- Regional preference schemes
- Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander schemes

Check out the Universities you are interested in for more information on these schemes.

Queensland ATAR (Australian Tertiary Admission Rank)

Year 12: Time is passing quickly - time to start organising

Time is moving quickly and you should be starting to seriously research your course preferences for your QTAC application. If you haven't a clue where to start or aren't aware of your options, make an appointment with your School Guidance Officer/Counsellor ASAP. Some opportunities to assist you are:

- From May to September most of the Institutions have open days where you can get information about courses and check out the campuses.
- You will receive the QTAC Guide in June/July or be able to access it online through the QTAC website. It contains information about courses you can apply for through QTAC as well as the application processes.
- 19 - 20 July 2025 - Tertiary Studies Expo (TSXPO) at the RICC Brisbane Showgrounds. Interstate universities will be represented at this Expo.
- From August 2025, you can access a range of up-to-date information about the 2025/26 QTAC application and offer processes and the courses offered from the QTAC website.
- 12, 13 & 14 May 2025 - Brisbane Careers and Employment Expo at the Brisbane Convention and Exhibition Centre. Also, careers' expos will be held in regional centres throughout Queensland.

Take advantage of all these opportunities to plan your immediate future. 30 September 2025 is the final date to apply for some courses through QTAC and is the end of the Early Bird application fee window. When you get your 2026 QTAC book, check it carefully for critical dates. You can also find the 2026 Guide online through the QTAC website when published.

Certificates and qualifications

The Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) is the body that awards successful students with their Queensland Certificate of Education (QCE) or the Queensland Certificate of Individual Achievement (QCIA). Study Skills and Wellbeing

8 Things Taken for Granted in Year 12

Year 12 is a crazy time in every student's life. From the stress of exams, the mix of impatience and anxiety to graduate, and the bubbling social scene of 18ths, formals, and grad ceremonies, it really is one big whirlwind that can pick you up and spit you out, wondering what on earth just happened. There are times when you'll want to run away and start a new life overseas and times when you'll want to curl up in a ball and cry. But there are also once-in-a-lifetime experiences and opportunities that you'd be crazy to want to miss. Here are eight of them. Click here to read what the year 13 article has to say about:

- Freedom within responsibility
- Seeing your friends every day
- Having teachers who genuinely care
- Sneaky celebrations
- Productivity
- Formal celebrations
- The end of an exam block
- Schoolies

Free app to help you manage the stress of Years 11 and 12

Senior studies can be stressful especially around exam time and assignment due dates. Having stress management strategies to call on when needed is essential, not just for this year but for your future success and happiness in studies and living. The Smiling Mind app will get you started on learning and implementing useful strategies. The app is free and is a modern meditation program that guides you through a series of exercises. Visit the Smiling Mind website for more information. Always remember, reach out to your Guidance Officer, School Counsellor, parents or GP if you are not coping or feeling very stressed out.

Three ways to build wellbeing

Conversations about wellbeing tend, more and more, to focus on the pressing need to address burnout, stress and becoming overwhelmed. This is no easy task. There are certain things that you can do in order to build your wellbeing. It is crucial for workplaces, (school and study are your workplace), to strike a balance between maintaining business purpose and impact (academic success and progression) and ensuring and strengthening the wellbeing of staff/students. It is important that individuals do the same. Click here to consider the three fundamental pillars when thinking about updating or developing approaches to sustaining purpose and enhancing wellbeing:

- Intention: A proactive and strategic approach

- Customisation: Tailoring wellbeing to support your needs
- Flexibility: Responding to life while maintaining wellbeing

New facilities and programmes

Through the National Skills Agreement, the Australian Government has partnered with States and Territories to establish nationally networked TAFE Centres of Excellence to deliver a skilled workforce for strategically important industries.

Cyber and Robotics Training Centre: developing the workers for the future from the South Bank campus.

TAFE Centre of Excellence - Health Care and Support: developing innovative health care training solutions to address critical skills gaps in health care and delivery.

TAFE Centre of Excellence - Clean Energy Batteries: developing targeted training solutions for the rapidly growing clean energy battery technology sector.

Academy of Sport - Broncos, QLD Rugby, Brisbane Lions, Bullets, Qld Cricket, Hockey Queensland, Gymnastics QLD: Undertake code specific training in an industry setting with real-life integrated learning.

The University of Queensland

Junior Physics Odyssey

The Junior Physics Odyssey (JPhO) is a four-day (non-residential) program during the school holidays held at UQ St Lucia campus for Year 10 students with an interest in physics, science and mathematics. The program aims to develop your problem-solving skills as well as an appreciation and understanding of physics. Applications are now open and close on 9 May. Click here for more information and application details.

Provisional entry into Medicine update

If you're in your final year of high school (Queensland Year 12 or equivalent), you can apply for the Provisional Entry pathway. The minimum entry requirements for this pathway are:

- Queensland Year 12 English or equivalent
- an adjusted ATAR 95.00 or equivalent or higher
- a competitive University Clinical Aptitude Test for Australia and New Zealand \(UCAT ANZ\) aggregate score from the year you apply
- a multiple mini interview \(MMI\).

You'll need to sit the UCAT ANZ before you apply. The minimum required UCAT ANZ aggregate score depends on the performance of applicants and available places in the MD program. This score varies each year and can't be determined in advance. UCAT has a significant impact on whether you gain a place in the provisional entry program so you need to study, practice and ask for assistance when necessary.

After you apply, if you're eligible for the next stage, you'll be invited to an MMI. Meeting the minimum entry requirements does not guarantee admission.

Sustainable energy programs – live Q&A webinars

UQ will be hosting an information webinar to learn more about UQ's Sustainable Energy programs on 22 May from 4 to 5 pm. During the webinar they will:
