A thought ...

The greatest wealth you will ever experience is having a healthy body, a calm mind and the right people in your life ... source unknown

Fortnightly laugh!

I got a job at a zoo feeding giraffes but I was fired because I wasn't up to it.

National Reconciliation Week

National Reconciliation Week takes place between May 27 and June 3 every year in Australia. These dates commemorate two significant milestones in the reconciliation journey: the successful 1967 Referendum and the High Court Mabo decision, respectively. The National Reconciliation Week theme for 2024, Now More Than Ever, is a reminder to all of us that no matter what, the fight for justice and the rights of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people will —and must —continue.

Unique Student Identifier (USI)

A USI is required if you are enrolling for study in 2025 and beyond. This includes both vocational education and training (VET) and university. Without a USI, you won't be able to access Commonwealth financial assistance for your studies, enrol in a Commonwealth Supported Place or receive your qualification. You only need one USI and you may already have one. You can check USI's website to find your USI or create a USI. Don't leave it to the last minute, apply now so you can put a tick in the box!

Apprenticeships & Traineeships

500 apprenticeships over 50 different industries!

Whether you want to work in an office, construction site, design studio, hospital or a farm, following your dream career is within reach. - Health and Community Services
- Resources, Mining & Processing
- Retail, Hospitality & Recreation
- Manufacturing & Production
- General or non-industry based

Types of apprenticeships and traineeships

When Australian Apprenticeships is referring to 'Australian Apprenticeships', they include apprenticeships and traineeships. Both combine learning at a training organisation and learning on the job. The only difference is the level of financial support you might be eligible for. This varies based on what state or territory you live in and what qualification you're completing. Click here to find out about:

Know your work preferences

Knowing a bit about yourself will help you in your job search. To help understand what roles and work environments suit you, you need to understand your work preferences. Start by thinking about the types of activities you enjoy and the environments you work best in. Ask yourself the following questions:

- Do I prefer being outdoors or inside?
- Do I prefer working alone or in a team?
- Am I more suited to analytical or creative activities?
- Am I more practical (e.g. I like working with my hands), or more theoretical (e.g. I prefer research)?

To find out more about your work preferences you can complete the following, easy workbooks:

- Interactions I like
- Places I like to work
- Work tasks I prefer

Occupations V Industries

'Occupation' is a word that refers to the type of work a person does, for example, a doctor, teacher or cabinet maker. 'Industry' refers to the main goods and services that are produced by a person's employer. Most occupations can be found in a number of industries. For example, while many cooks work in the Accommodation and Food Services industry, cooks are also employed in the Healthcare and Social Assistance industry in hospitals, childcare centres, Defence Force and aged care facilities. By understanding how flexible an occupation can be, you can broaden your options and increase your chances of finding the right career pathway. For information on different occupations, visit myfuture and for information on apprenticeships and traineeships, visit Australian Apprenticeships.

Providing help in deciding what to do after high school

Figuring out what to do after Year 12 might be the biggest decision you have ever made (but it's not the biggest you will ever make). There are several paths you can take after high school, whether it's attending university, taking a gap year, undertaking an apprenticeship or other training or getting a full-time job. But how to know which is the right choice? It takes research, discussion and support. Click here and follow the 5 steps below that can help you in your decision making:

- Explore career options
- Discuss with others what's important
- Be involved in your SET Planning
- Attend open days
- Look into scholarships

VET Opens Up New Pathways Into High Demand Jobs Written by Cara Jenkin

More than half of all new jobs created have required a vocational education and training qualification, as the labour market relies on the practical and real-world teaching style that VET provides to skill staff. Jobs and Skills Australia reports that in the year to February, 2023, more than 60 per cent of total employment growth nationally was in VET-related occupations. Meanwhile, 36 per cent of all employment growth was in occupations in which a university qualification is the primary pathway. The remaining new jobs created did not require a qualification. Click here to find out more.

What is a 'good career' anyway?

There are lots of people out there pushing what they think a “good career” looks like. In many cases this is “careers advice” masquerading as “careers guidance”. It is disconcerting on multiple levels, as it pushes people down paths that might not be for them. It applies pressure, via judgement, that only certain types of careers are “good careers”. A “good career” is often portrayed as a successful career. What seems successful to one person is perhaps the complete opposite to another. However, “success” is a subjective entity, dependent on individual judgement. Click here to read more of Chris Targett's informative article.

Will a career test tell me what I should do?

Just doing a test would certainly make career decision making easier but it's not that simple! There are many tests that can help identify your career interests, work values, skills, aptitudes, personality, etc. at the time you do the tests. While there isn't just one ideal job for you, assessment quizzes can increase your self-awareness and usually provide you with a list of possible jobs to investigate based on how you responded to the quiz questions. This information can be used to begin your career exploration. The following quizzes are examples of assessment tools you can use to come up with job ideas. You can talk to your school Guidance Counsellor/Officer and ask them about quizzes they recommend to help you begin your career exploration.

Employment, Job and Labour Market Info

ABS Labour Force Data - April 2025

The Australian Bureau of Statistics have released the Labour Force Data for April 2025:

- unemployment rate remained at 4.1%.
- participation rate remained at 67.0%.
- employment increased to 14,622,100.
- employment to population ratio remained at 64.3%.
- underemployment rate increased to 6.0%.
- monthly hours worked decreased to 1,967 million.

Age diversity will define the workforce of the future

In recent decades, the prevailing expectation has been that careers span between 30 and 40 years, with people retiring in their 60s. That no longer holds true. Work is changing. Not just when we work, how, where or the tools we use — but crucially, who is working. In the EU, the expected duration of working life rose 4.1 years between 2002 and 2022, and this trend is likely to continue. This is because in most major economies, populations are aging and birth rates are falling. The World Health Organization projects that the proportion of the world's population that is over 60 will nearly double from 12% to 22% by 2050. How to make a great first impression on employers

The Australian Government regularly surveys Australian employers. They asked them what young job seekers can do to make a good impression at an interview. Employers said that they are impressed by job seekers who:

- Are punctual
- Dress appropriately for the job (even if you are meeting an employer online)
- Smile and are friendly
- Are well presented

Some other ways to show an employer you really want to work with them:

- Be your best self online
- Show them you understand their business
- Ask questions

Click here for more information on the above points.

Networking - you're never too young to start!

It's never too early to understand networking! Networking is about building and developing professional relationships that can help you achieve your employment goals. Networking can take many forms. You can:

- join professional associations
- attend formal networking or business events
- build relationships online or through your existing business or social channels.

Having a network of professional contacts can be useful for:

- getting a better understanding of your dream career or industry
- finding future employment opportunities and
- landing a job

SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test) OR ACT (American College Test) requirement for study in the USA

Internationally Educated offers customized college search and application services for Australian students wanting to study in the USA. On the website you will find news and resources to help with your application process. Many US universities have temporarily amended their admission requirements to be SAT or ACT 'test-optional'. This means an application for admission may still be reviewed without the submission of an SAT or ACT test score. It is at the student's discretion or 'optional' if they submit the test result as part of their application. However, if you are considering applying to highly selective universities, it is worth considering preparing and sitting one of these tests. Click here to read more about the current admissions policies including the universities that still require a SAT or ACT test result.

The University of Notre Dame Australia Young Achievers Early Offer Program

Brisbane Careers and Employment Expo reminder

The Brisbane Careers & Employment Expo being held on 12, 13 & 14 June 2025 is a leading careers, training and education event in Queensland. The event offers the opportunity for students, job seekers and career changers of all ages to connect with organisations for guidance, clarity and opportunities in relation to career options. Entry is free and click here for more details.

Getting the most out of an Expo visit

The reason for going to a career Expo, is to find out about your options for employment, training and/or higher education. They offer a unique opportunity as they have a broad range of information in the same place at the same time. Also, you can gather hard copy or online brochures as well as get accurate, up-to-date information from representatives who can answer your questions. To get the most out of a career expo, you need to do some preparation. First, go onto the Expo website to find out about:

- The exhibitors - industries, organisations, universities, colleges, TAFE, employers, etc. who will have a stand at the Expo
- Activities - some Expos have activities such as 'Try-a-Trade'
- Seminars or workshops
- Competitions – some Expos use these as a draw card for people to attend.

Other helpful hints include:

- Make a list of the exhibitors, activities and seminars/workshops you want to visit and timetable your visit so you can get to them all.
- List the information you are looking for and/or the questions you want answered.
- Locate a map of exhibitors (where their stands are located on the Expo site). Use this to get around the Expo.

- After the Expo, review your information and reflect on how it might influence your future decision making. You could talk this over with your school Guidance Counsellor/Officer and family.

English and Maths eligibility for ATAR

QTAC, who calculate the individual ATARs, has outlined eligibility requirements (scroll down the page) students must meet to be awarded an ATAR. Student must have:

- Successful completion of an English subject is a mandatory requirement for the award of an ATAR. Students are required to successfully complete (i.e. be awarded a raw letter grade of “C” or better) in one of the following QCAA English subject offerings: English, English as an Additional Language, Literature, English & Literature Extension or Essential English
- While successful completion of an English subject is a mandatory requirement for ATAR eligibility, there are no other mandatory subject inclusions for the ATAR
- Not all English subjects will meet the English prerequisite requirements for universities and courses. You must check each university’s prerequisites.
- While students must satisfactorily complete an English subject to be eligible for an ATAR, the result in English will only be included in the ATAR calculation if it is one of the student’s best five subject results.
- Only General English subjects or Applied English subjects can be included in a student’s ATAR, but not both (e.g. English and Essential English)

An added note regarding mathematics subjects:

- Only General Mathematics subjects or Applied Mathematics subjects can be included in a student’s ATAR, but not both (e.g. Mathematical Methods and Essential Mathematics)

How IB Diploma students are considered for entry to tertiary courses in Australia

Results from the IB Diploma, which are reported on a whole number scale between 24 and 45, are converted into an ATAR-like value to allow IB students to be considered for tertiary places alongside their counterparts who have completed state curricula. This ATAR-like value is known as the Combined Rank because it is a national conversion that combines results from all states. This means that IB students can apply to any Australian state or territory with confidence about how their results compare to their peers who have completed state curricula and received an ATAR. Click here to find out more however, note that the current information on the QTAC site is for 2025 admissions, so keep a watch out for the 2026 admissions updates.

Q&A's from QTAC

Q - What does early bird application mean?

A. - You must apply to QTAC before 30 September 2025 to only pay $70 for the early bird application. After 30 September 2025 an application will cost $150.

Q - How do I apply to university for next year?

A. - You apply through QTAC for most Queensland tertiary courses. Applications to tertiary institutions in other states are through tertiary admissions centres similar to QTAC. You apply directly to all other institutions.

Q. - What is QTAC?

A. - The Queensland Tertiary Admissions Centre (QTAC) is a public, not-for-profit company that manages the application and offer processes for universities, TAFE Queensland and some private colleges in Queensland (three interstate institutions are also included). QTAC does not make the rules about entry to courses. The institutions make the rules and QTAC administers these rules.

Q. - How many courses can I apply for through QTAC?

A. - You can apply for up to 6 courses from any of the institutions that use QTAC. You receive only one offer (if you meet the prerequisites and have a competitive ATAR or rank) at any given offer round. Find out more on the Preferences page of the QTAC website.

Q. - How are applicants selected for courses through QTAC?

A. - There are usually more applicants than available places for many of the courses. Selection is based on meeting minimum entry requirements (prerequisite subjects, folio, audition, etc.) and on merit (ATAR or Selection Rank). Once minimum entry requirements are met, applicants compete on the basis of merit for competitive courses.

Q.-What is the difference between undergraduate and postgraduate courses?

A. - The term 'undergraduate' is normally applied to diploma, advanced diploma, associate degree and bachelor degree courses. 'Postgraduate' usually applies to courses you can study after completing a bachelor degree, e.g. graduate certificate, graduate diploma, masters and doctorate.

Q. - What does it mean if a degree indicates (Honours)

A. - The term Honours means that the degree will take 4 years to complete. The degree requires an additional year of full-time study attached to a bachelor degree to allow for greater understanding and specialisation.

Q. - What does core unit mean?

A. - A subject you must complete as part of your degree.

QTAC warning

DO NOT apply to QTAC for 2026 entry into tertiary courses yet. QTAC is currently taking Semester 2, 2025 applications NOT 2026. If you apply before the 2026 opening date in August, your application will not be considered!

What are minimum selection thresholds for competitive entry into courses?

The minimum selection threshold is the minimum adjusted score (ATAR/rank) that was considered for an offer of a place to all applicants in the January 2025 offer round. Minimum selection thresholds vary from year to year and from offer round to offer round, depending on the number and quality of applicants a course receives. For appropriate preferencing, it's important that you check the minimum selection threshold for Semester 1 2025 admissions.

Year 12 QTAC applications

Current Year 12 students can apply for 2026 Applications from Tuesday 5 August. Any QTAC application submitted before Tuesday 5 August will not be considered and no information inputted will carry into the new admissions year starting 5 August. Do not apply until or after, Opening of Admissions, Tuesday 5 August.

Ideas to assist you with managing panic and reducing anxiety

Idea 1: When you are starting to panic remember this is an exaggerated physical reaction to stress. The feelings are unpleasant, but you can cope with them ... breathe!

Idea 2: Concentrate on your breathing – Breathe three deep breaths in and out slowly closing your eyes (when possible) as you do it ... repeat until your heart rate is settled.

Idea 3: Watch your thinking. Say in your head statements like: "It's OK", "I can cope", "breathe", "I can manage this" ...

Idea 4: Use distracting techniques – count backwards from 100 or describe a painting to yourself or remember a happy time

Idea 5: Tell yourself that this is just one point in time and it will pass ...

It is important to think in positive words to yourself. Everyone gets stressed and can panic but learning how to manage it will make the panic become less frequent. Always remember to back yourself. If you are finding managing your stress and/or panic difficult, speak with your school guidance officer, school counsellor or make an appointment to see your family doctor. They will all have great ideas to assist you to move forward positively and confidently.

Important Responsibilities Every Student Needs to Own

Tim Elmore from Growing Leaders encourages young people to step up and take responsibility and ownership for their live and life decisions. He suggests the following strategies are worth considering:

1. Master your attitude

You have no control over many obstacles that come your way, but you can control the way you respond to them. Own your attitude. Bad attitudes do you no good. Good attitudes can make the difference in whether you maintain creativity and optimism on the journey.

2. Be your own advocate at school

Students have agency. You need to exercise it. Stake a claim in class and let the teacher know that you're interested in succeeding. Stand up for what you need, ask questions and own what you've agreed to do. This can be a game-changer.

3. Offer your best effort

Students can't get upset with their grades if they don't invest energy. You should pursue your courses, sports teams and other activities with an "all in" commitment. If you have to say "no" to some activities so you can focus, then so be it. Do less and achieve more.

4. Practice punctuality

When you're on time, your message to others is, "I respect your time." When you're late, you unwittingly say, "I don't care as much about your time as you do." Be on time. Better yet, come early and prepared.

5. Surround yourself with people who can help you and vice versa

Most students make friends accidentally - whomever they meet at a party, or a game, etc. Why not identify and pursue helpful mentors, school and friends who will nudge you toward where you want to go. You can always return that favour.

6. Navigate your screen time

Most smartphones can report how much time we spend on them daily. Research demonstrates that fewer than two hours a day on social media leaves us less vulnerable to anxiety and depression. More than two hours results in greater vulnerability to mental health issues. Take charge of your phone and your time. It's your life.

English Language requirements for Nursing at all universities

As a Year 12 student, before you can be considered for a place in a Nursing or Midwifery course, the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council \(ANMAC\) requires that all applicants demonstrate their English language proficiency via one of the following options:

Option 1: English is your primary language AND you have attended and satisfactorily completed at least six years of primary and secondary education taught and assessed solely in English. At least two years of this education must have been between grades 7 and 12. This education must have been completed in one or more of the following countries: Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Republic of Ireland, South Africa, United Kingdom, United States of America. If this describes you, then you will need to complete a declaration confirming that you meet the requirements as described above.

Option 2: If you do not meet the above option you will need to sit an approved English language proficiency test. If this describes you, then you will need to sit one of the following approved English language proficiency tests and achieve the minimum scores: IELTS Academic, TOEFL CBT, TWE Academic, ISLPR, STAT, PTE, Cambridge Assessment English or OET. Before booking one of these tests, check to see which tests are accepted by the institution you are applying to.
